Planning Report for Block 200.03, Lots 531, 532, 533 and 534

Stone Harbor Borough, Cape May County, New Jersey

Prepared for Fox Rothschild

Prepared by: Kevin J Dixon, P.E., P.P., P.T.O.E., C.M.E.

I. Purpose:

On February 10, 2020, the Stone Harbor Planning Board approved an application for a minor subdivision of Block 200.03, Lots 531, 532, 533 and 534 into two lots for the purpose of demolishing a single family dwelling and constructing two new single family dwellings. Litigation followed in appeal of the decision.

On November 17th, 2020, Judge Savio remanded the subject application back to the Stone Harbor Planning Board for the sole purpose of developing supplemental expert testimony regarding whether the proposed development is “consistent with the character of the neighborhood”.

Specifically, the Court remanded the matter back to the Stone Harbor Planning Board as follows:

“This matter is remanded to the Stone Harbor Planning Board for the sole purpose of allowing the parties in this litigation to supplement the record with additional expert testimony regarding the issue of the proposed development being consistent with the character of the neighborhood (such that the benefit of granting the variances outweighs any potential detriment) and for the Planning Board to issue more detailed findings on that issue." – Judge Savio Case Management Order November 17, 2020.

The Purpose of this report is to review the materials related to the subject application and develop conclusions and an opinion as to whether the proposed development is consistent with the character of the neighborhood such that the benefit of granting the variances outweighs any potential detriment.

The zoning district in which the subject application is situated is the Residential A District, consisting of the waterfront lots along the Harbor. Almost 200 feet south of this, on the opposite side of both Sunrise Drive and 3rd Avenue, is the Residential B District. While the Residential A District is a single family district only, the Residential B District allows both single family and two family dwellings, and in fact has numerous condominiums in the District, nearby to its border with this district. This zoning district therefore has a distinctly different character from the Residential A District, and as such is not considered a valid comparison for the neighborhood character.

THE PROCESS AND METHODOLOGY

To accomplish the comparison of this application to the neighborhood character, I took the following steps:

1. I made two field visits to the subject property, on November 13th and November 28th, to observe the general character of the area and surrounding neighborhood.
2. I consulted the official website of the New Jersey County Tax Boards Association, www.njactb.org to pull the tax records for this and surrounding properties.

December 1, 2020

3. I consulted and studied sheets 19 and 23 of the Stone Harbor Tax Maps, to match the tax records with the lots depicted on the tax map, so as to identify conforming versus non-conforming lots. Most of the properties in the surrounding area consist of combinations of 30 foot wide tax parcels, and/or fractions of 30 foot wide lots, combined into one building lot. I then plotted each combined lot as identified in the tax records with the information as to which lots or combinations of lots were identified as individual properties.

4. I consulted with the New Jersey Geographic Information Network (NJGIN) using 2015 color imagery to compare the property records with development on the individual properties to identify the development of the properties.

5. A spreadsheet was prepared listing each property, it's attendant parcels by lot and block, the area of the property and each entry was color coded with green shading if the property meets or exceeds the minimum lot area in the Residential A district, or red shading if the lot is less than the minimum required lot area.

6. A map was prepared showing each of the properties identified in the tax records for both those properties within 200 feet of the subject tract of ground, as well as the surrounding waterfront properties along the harbor, on each side of 104th, Street in the Residential A district. The map was shaded to match the spreadsheet entries with green shading if the tract meets or exceeds the minimum lot area in the Residential A district, and red shading if it is less than the minimum required lot area.

FACTUAL INVENTORY OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

II. Zoning and Neighborhood Context

To understand the character of the neighborhood, and whether the proposed subdivision of lots is consistent with that character, we first have to take stock of what is in the neighborhood.

For proper context, we first need to see it as it existed prior to the demolition of the existing home on the subject parcel. That is the best definition of the character of the neighborhood character for a number of reasons:

1. It represents the character of the neighborhood, prior to the changes imposed by the activities of the developer to demolish the building, and clear the trees on the subject parcel, which has altered the character of the neighborhood irreversibly. The subject dwelling unit is listed on the NJACTB website as having been built in 1935, and therefore was a well-established element of the character of the neighborhood, prior to its demolition.
2. The age of the existing building was consistent with the other structures directly adjacent to it. To the right, or northeast, that structure is listed as having been built in 1935, making it a contemporary of the now demolished structure. To the left, or west of the subject property, the construction was from 1948, over 70 years old.
3. Prior to its demolition, the building area was approximately 1,796 square feet, according to the subdivision documents prepared by Guzzi. The total building area approved by the Planning Board on February 10, 2020 was 25% of the total lot area of 10,703 square feet, in accordance with the bulk standards for the district, or a total coverage of 2,675 square feet, a nearly 50% increase in building area. That represents a substantial change to the character of the neighborhood.

December 1, 2020

INVENTORY OF EXISTING SURROUNDING PROPERTIES

From our mapping and tabulation efforts, we were able to determine a factual basis for further defining the character of the neighborhood as follows:

1. Within the Residential A District, including the subject tract, there are 9 properties completely or nearly completely within the 200 foot radius, which meet or exceed the minimum lot requirement. This includes six contiguous properties in a row, with the subject property in the middle of those, all conforming lot sizes.
2. The proposed subdivision takes a conforming lot and splits it into two non-conforming lots. From a neighborhood standpoint, the project splits the six contiguous conforming lots into two conforming lots, two new non-conforming lots, and three conforming lots. This represents a substantial change in the neighborhood character by breaking and disruption of the development pattern that was defined by six contiguous conforming properties.
3. There are three properties entirely within the 200 foot radius and two properties partially within, which are substandard lot sizes compared to 9 properties that are conforming. The closest ones are three lots across 104th Street in a separate block.
4. Defining the neighborhood further, throughout the remainder of the waterfront properties in the Residential A District, 54 lots, or over 70% of the land mass consists of conforming lots and 37 lots, or less than 30% of the land mass consists of non-conforming lots.

December 1, 2020

Both in numbers of lots as well as the total land mass by comparison, the character of the neighborhood is defined by homes on larger lots.

5. The relative age of the conforming lots throughout the study area is younger than those of the non-conforming variety. The average age listed in the NJACTB.ORG website for each is as follows:

LOT STATUS	AVERAGE YEAR BUILT	AVERAGE AGE
Conforming (> 6,600 SF)	1982	38 years
Non-Conforming (< 6,600 SF)	1960	60 years

This shows that the more recent development pattern favors conforming lot sizes and the non-conforming lot sizes have on average much older homes. The proposed substandard lot sizes may match a few homes in the nearby area, but that does not rise to the level of being consistent with the character of the neighborhood. The grant of variance relief to allow below minimum lot sizes is regressive and counter to the neighborhood trend.

The lot status is illustrated on the attached Figure 1.

WATERFRONT CHARACTER OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

The Residential A District is made up of waterfront homes along the Harbor. These properties are mostly rectangular lots consisting of street frontage and rear access to a tidal basin and used mostly for boating. There is a strong maritime, nautical feel to the neighborhood. The subject property is a “pie-shaped” property, with a very narrow rear water’s edge, with a total of about 35 feet between the docks of adjoining properties, which is roughly equivalent to the smallest dockage in the Residential A District, for the few 30 foot lots that exist. And the proposed subdivision adds one more dwelling unit and one more dock, requiring two properties to share this 35 foot opening. Additionally, this area is part of the Harbor that is not regularly flushed by tide and at low tide forms a mud flat near the bulkhead. This means any viable dock must be extended outward in the direction of the convergence of the lots creating a very narrow and limited opportunity to provide dockage for two separate properties without impacting the neighborhood significantly. From the maritime perspective, this is similar to the zoning impact of crowding one more home into a neighborhood that is not zoned for the second home. This property is not geometrically suited to having two docks.

BENEFITS AND DETERIMENTS

Judge Savio’s order discusses the character of the neighborhood in the context of the benefits of the variance outweighing any detriments. In zoning terms, benefits and detriments related to the flexible c(2) variance are closely tied with any “substantial detriment to the public good”, from NJSA 40:55D-70, Power of the Board:

“No variance or other relief may be granted under the terms of this section, including a variance or other relief involving an inherently beneficial use, without a showing that such variance or other relief can be granted without substantial detriment to the public good and will not substantially impair the intent and the purpose of the zone plan and zoning ordinance.”

Several detriments to the neighborhood have been identified, including the crowding effect of two units on a lot zoned for one dwelling unit, the impingement of the maritime water frontage, the disruption of the well established neighborhood feel of six contiguous conforming lots.

Regarding the building coverage resulting from the subdivision, the bulk standards of the zoning district allow 25% building coverage, so at first glance, two lots may seem neither a benefit nor a detriment, as long as the allowable coverage is not exceeded. However, Mr. Helbig asserts, and the Board agrees, that two smaller homes will allow more light, air and open space since two smaller homes on two lots will have ten feet on each side yard between the new homes, totaling 20 feet between them, and therefore to paraphrase, the site will have less coverage (JA 62). This is a mathematical falsehood, which is simple to disprove. The approval granted allows the bulk standard of coverage to be met, which is 25% of the site or 2,675 square feet, since no development plans were provided or approved. There is no more or no less coverage permitted whether one home is built, or two homes, and nothing requires the property owner to build a home that would stretch from setback to setback. But since no plans were presented for what is to be built on the site, the bulk standard of the ordinance governs what can and must be assumed will be built, which is the same amount of coverage permitted whether one home is built or two homes.

What impacts the neighborhood most is the perception of light, air and open space, which is inversely proportional to the number of lots. The more homes placed on the tract, the more the open space is divided into smaller spaces and spread out, actually diminishing its perception, making any perceived open space smaller and more diffuse. Conversely, if a single-family home is built on this lot, covering 2,675 square feet, it could be placed in the center of the lot, and have ample setbacks on each side, because it would aggregate available light, air and open space into much more tangible side yard areas, creating a comparative benefit to the neighborhood. Placement of two homes on this tract, with 20 feet of space between them (10 foot side yard setbacks on each lot), only robs the same open space from the sides yards adjoining its neighbors on each side. Two dwelling units on this property thus actually has the effect of diminishing light, air and open space by creating a crowding effect to the two adjoining properties, and that is a substantial detriment to the character of the neighborhood. This application actually reduces any existing benefit to the neighborhood by placement of two homes. In reality, the only benefit of two homes on this tract of ground accrues to the developer, which is not the appropriate basis for a variance. The benefits must accrue to the adjacent and nearby properties and the municipality, not just the developer. Whereas the character of the neighborhood has been defined by the light, air and open space that has existed on this property for many decades, placement of two homes on this property will permanently and negatively change that variable of the neighborhood, especially with regard to the immediately surrounding properties.

THE MASTER PLAN AND BENEFITS VS DETERIMENTS

Moreover, there is actually no benefit accruing to the municipality, or the neighborhood by the finding that the two proposed dwelling units will meet all bulk standards as two smaller houses instead of one big “McMansion” style home. The Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance speak directly to those points, and assist in understanding that mathematically there is no benefit to the community by the grant of this variance, a necessary finding to determine that the benefits outweigh the detriments. We have demonstrated that the coverage of the lot generated by one single family home will provide significant benefit to the community, especially the next door neighbors most impacted, because it would aggregate light air and open space. The Zoning Ordinance actually gives us numerical guidance on the what can and should be built on the site, in terms of maximum height restrictions (31 feet) and maximum building coverage restrictions (25%) to limit the total amount of building volume permitted on a given tract of ground. Therefore, the three-dimensional volume of building (area X height) on any tract of ground is established by ordinance. Whether that is divided into one or two structures, the allowable volume of construction does not change. Making a subjective appeal that two units are better than one does nothing to reduce the total volume of construction, and therefore creates no benefit.

The Master Plan reexamination of 2019 speaks directly to this point. It reaffirms its reliance on height restrictions and two story maximum, which it says have helped to maintain the character and charm of the neighborhoods within Stone Harbor. Further, it speaks of the potential for compatibility issues to arise when newer homes “stand out from the much smaller homes of the past”.

The Master Plan outlines the three residential zoning districts in the current zoning ordinance, Residential A, B, and C. The three zoning districts account for 318 acres of property in the Borough. The Borough has maintained the two story maximum and a stringent height restriction which has helped to maintain the character and charm of the neighborhoods within Stone Harbor. With very few lots available for new residential construction the majority of all growth has been in the form of renovations, additions, and redevelopment of lots. Growth of this nature can lead to issues with compatibility, context, and resource conservation. The central issue has been the growth in size of newer homes which often stand out from the much smaller homes of the past. This has led to the significant decrease in older structures as well as working toward eliminating the one story structures found throughout the Borough. The new and larger homes are being built to deal with flooding. The raised elevations also can leave a new structure unsightly at street level and break up the cohesiveness of the streetscape.

The Master Plan recommended monitoring impervious coverage limits to ensure that they can maintain the balance of light and air along with historically desirable densities. This problem persists but has not been exacerbated. (2019 Master Plan reexamination)

The Master Plan reexamination does not recommend anywhere that lot sizes be reduced to accommodate smaller homes. It does not encourage homes to be built that mimic older homes. It merely points out that in some instances, newer and larger homes stand out from existing, older, smaller homes. In fact, the Master Plan credits height restrictions and a 2-story maximum with maintaining the character and charm of the neighborhoods, and in that regard, the Master Plan actually defines what makes up the character of the neighborhood. It goes on to state that light, air and historically desirable densities are controlled by “monitoring impervious coverage limits”, not the promotion of smaller lot sizes or building homes that mimic nearby smaller homes.

The Master Plan also asserts that the loss of trees is a problem:

Trees and vegetation have also suffered due to the increase and size of the new homes. Often as lots are cleared they are removed for ease of construction or to accommodate the larger footprint of homes, pools, and patios. This loss of mature trees is akin to the loss of historic structures. They can give a neighborhood a sense of place and time in the environment. The trees should be protected whenever possible.

The Master Plan recommended adopting a landscape ordinance to protect mature trees or consider replacements for them wherever possible. The plan recommended the establishment of a shade tree committee to serve as an advisory board to the Borough. The Borough currently has a shade tree committee which along with the garden club works hard to promote the care and maintenance of vegetation throughout the Borough. In 2016 the Borough commissioned and adopted a Community Forestry Management Plan (Appendix A) that now serves as a guide for the care, maintenance and selection of trees throughout the Borough. (2019 Master Plan reexamination)

The applicant argues that smaller lots would be consistent with the character of the neighborhood, but the placement of two smaller homes has already resulted in the clearing of a stand of mature trees on the northeast side of the lot, which have now been cleared. Yet, as shown before, the placement of a single family home in the center of the lot would result in no need to clear that vegetation. This is an opportunity lost, to preserve the vegetation on the site, and demonstrates a specific instance within the Master Plan of the negative impact on the neighborhood of placing two smaller homes that must be spaced 20 feet apart and now will encroach into side yard areas and necessitate the clearing of vegetation which is the direct result of the grant of the variance for lot sizes. The grant of the variance has resulted in an outcome that is inconsistent with the Master Plan, and has a direct negative impact on the character of the neighborhood, by promoting the clearing of the vegetation on the site to fit two homes where one home in the center of the lot would not have required the clearing.

Nothing in the Ordinance requires a “McMansion” style home to be built on the property, and therefore, there is no benefit to the neighborhood by adding density to the block with two smaller homes instead of one larger home. There is no compatibility issue since several homes have been reconstructed and are larger, while other homes are smaller in a blended neighborhood. Building a larger home that covers 2,675 square feet is not a compatibility issue, with surrounding properties, especially since the lot could maintain ample setbacks and such a footprint is not out of scale or incompatible with surrounding homes. In fact, the Master Plan makes no recommendation at all about limiting the size of homes, nor does the Zoning Ordinance stipulate anything but a 6,600 square foot lot. In fact, as stated above, the Zoning Ordinance explicitly endorses a two story 31 foot high building covering 2,675 square feet on this lot, by virtue of the express bulk standards passed by the actions of the Governing Body, in concert with the Master Plan which expresses no recommendations about limiting such bulk standards as a matter of "compatibility".

COMPARISON WITH OLDER, SMALLER HOMES

To see the character of the neighborhood in terms of other homes and structures of similar size and character on nearby properties, is how it appears to have been presented at the Planning Board meeting by the applicant. However, such a characterization is problematic as it pertains to the grant of a variance to allow a reduction in minimum lot size. The properties on which such similarly sized homes exist, are mostly on lots that have been in existence since before the zoning ordinance required a minimum 6,600 square feet of lot area. They represent either existing older homes or rebuilds on existing properties, not subdivisions of land meant to create new substandard lot sizes. See attached lot tabulation summary.

If the argument by the applicant is the grant of the variance is consistent with the neighborhood because the units would match the look and feel of other substandard lots, the variance would have been granted improperly. To grant a variance for substandard lot sizes because they look like other substandard and non-conforming lot sizes is tantamount to zoning by variance. The power of zoning is the sole power of the governing body. In this case, the governing body has already determined that 6,600 square feet is the appropriate lot size. There is no benefit to the neighboring properties, or the community to matching substandard lot sizes with more substandard lot sizes.

III. Court remand

The applicant asserted that the grant of the variance would create the benefit of more light, air and open space, as well as two homes that are “closer to the character of what’s been provided in that neighborhood”. We have attempted to define what is meant by the terminology “character of the neighborhood” in terms of the Master Plan and Ordinance provisions, as well as ways it has been described above by the applicant as being similar in appearance to other properties in the neighborhood.

This office observed multiple properties within the neighborhood, and their respective lot sizes. Using the tax map and tax records we were able to determine that the lots in the immediately surrounding area are mostly conforming lots, with only some of the lots non-conforming. The subject parcel is a conforming lot size, as are the immediately adjacent properties on either side. Of the non-conforming lots in the area, we observed those mostly in clusters of twos, threes and fours, whereas including the subject parcel there are six contiguous conforming parcels. Most of the non-conforming lots pre-exist the zoning; according to tax records. An analysis of the harbor areas of the R-A district on each side of 104th Street, shows the majority of lots conforming.

Observing the parcels nearby to the parcel in question, there are three undersized lots directly across 104th Street. These lots represent a relatively isolated area, not sufficient to compel the applicant to seek relief to match older undersized lots across the street, on the basis of matching the character of those undersized lots.

In fact, the preponderance of land mass in the area immediately around the subject parcel consists of multiple lots congregated into land masses that exceed the minimum lot size. Even within the curvilinear lands located at the bends in the Harbor, and the lands immediately adjacent, there is a significant preponderance of land mass that meets or exceeds the minimum lot areas.

IV. Interpretation

The variance request for substandard lot areas was made on the basis of the following assertions:

1. Other than lot area, all other bulk standards would be met.
2. There would be more light, air and open space if two smaller homes are built, rather than one larger home, because the two homes would be separated by the required 10 foot side yard setbacks, creating a 20 foot space in between the homes, instead of having a “very large home that would encumber the entire lot” (JA62).
3. There would be less coverage by two smaller homes than one large home. In fact, one home on the lot would result in construction which would stretch “from setback to setback” (JA62).

December 1, 2020

4. Two smaller homes would be “closer to the character of what’s been provided in that neighborhood”, than one large home (JA62).

Items 1 through 3 are impossible to assert without contradiction, since if the bulk standards are met, the same coverage (25% or 2,675 square feet) is afforded two smaller lots as would be afforded one large lot. The square feet of coverage available would thus be half for each of the two lots, still totaling 2,675 square feet for the tract. There is nothing in the ordinance which compels the property owner to build a dwelling unit that stretches from setback to setback, which is nearly 100 feet at the midpoint of the lot.

With regard to Item 4, identifying the smaller homes as in keeping with the character of the neighborhood, the neighborhood immediately adjacent to the subject property, including the subject property, all meet or exceed the minimum lot size standards. Only three substandard lots exist in the immediately surrounding properties. These lots were not subdivided to create undersized lots but all predate the passage of the minimum lot size of 6,600 square feet from 1986. In determining the concept of compatibility with the neighborhood, especially related to the concept of a desirable visual environment, the aesthetics of the neighborhood are relevant. The preponderance of lands immediately surrounding the subject parcel are conforming lots meeting or exceeding the minimum lot size, including the subject parcel. As stated earlier the demolition of the existing home on the subject parcel created a significant and negative impact on the neighborhood, by eliminating one of the homes in the neighborhood that actually was in keeping with the character of the neighborhood, and replacing it with two homes for which there is no evidence supporting the assertion that the neighborhood character is supported by the smaller homes.

V. Conclusions

The Court remanded the application back to the Planning Board solely to resolve the issue of the proposed development being consistent with the character of the neighborhood, such that the benefit of granting the variances outweighs any potential detriment.

This analysis shows that there are no benefits accruing to the neighborhood, or the community, because the grant of the variance would not decrease building coverage as claimed, because the bulk standards allow 25% coverage whether it is aggregated in one lot or divided by two lots. There is no more light, air or open space, as claimed, for the same reason, and less so if what open space is available is divided into smaller segments between more units, rather than larger setbacks for a single family home. A single-family home does not have to be stretched from setback to setback, because such dimensions would be impractical for a single family home. Therefore, the single-family option is much less of an impact on the neighborhood, and much more in line with the character of the neighborhood. The grant of a variance under NJSA 40:55D-70 (c)(2) is based on the establishment of a better zoning option for the surrounding properties, the neighborhood and the municipality, not the developer. None of the claimed benefits are actually factual, and no others exist which would give rise to a better alternative than the duly authorized Zoning Ordinance adhering to 6,600 square foot lots. And since the chronological pattern of development since 1986 has been toward larger homes and larger lots, there is no evidence that the grant of the variance is somehow consistent with the neighborhood pattern overall.

The detriments are manifest in the proposed subdivision, including an increase in the density of the tract, above the permissible density, which adds traffic, noise and population to the neighborhood, as well as potential conflicts on the marine side with extremely constricted waterfront width, causing a negative impact on the adjoining property owners' peaceful enjoyment of their properties, and a regressive development pattern, which undermines the intent and purpose of the Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance because it does not represent the true character of the neighborhood.

Based on the facts and conclusions above, it is my opinion, within a reasonable degree of Professional Planning certainty that the proposed development does not represent the character of the neighborhood, and undermines the variance process under which it seeks to build two undersized lots on the subject parcel. If the facts change, or additional information is available, I reserve the right to modify my opinion.
